Moscow 2.0

Moscow 2.0: A Bibliographical Journey

Introduction

On Moscow: A Necessary Preamble

Text by Marco Casamonti

Photo by Pietro Savorelli

Editorial

Moscow 2.0

The Present of the Near Future

Text by Alessandro De Magistris, Umberto Zanetti

Moscow today appears to be headed for new metamorphoses. Having come very far from the “socialist city” which nevertheless represented an important matrix for many of the changes that have taken place in recent years, it is also rapidly leaving behind it the salient traits characterizing post-communist Russian capitalism.

Interview

Moscow Tomorrow

Interview with Sergey Kuznetsov by Laura Andreini, Marco Casamonti

Panorama

“New Moscow” Agglomeration Project

Text by Kadyrov Timur

Scenarios of the Project: Project Scenarios

Areas in Disuse

Proekt Meganom: Peninsula ZIL

John McKinnon + Partners

Stalin’s Factory

MVRDV: Serp. Molar

Park and Public Spaces

Diller & Scofidio + Renzo

Zaryadye Park

Proekt Meganom

Moscow River Future Parks

Land/Khodynskoe Pole

Pokrovskoye-Gorodets Park

Onokhino, Uzbekistan, VDNKh, Sokolniki Park

Lettura Critica/Critical Lectures

The Museum of Architecture and the Museum Cluster of Moscow: Realizations, Projects and Strategies

Text by Ilona Korobina

Scenari di Architettura/Architectural Scenarios

Proekt Meganom: Mercury Theatre

Text by Proekt Meganom

Photo by Proekt Meganom

Sergey Skuratov Architects: Danilovsky Fort

Text by Sergey Skuratov Architects

Photo by Sergey Skuratov Architects

Boris Bernaskon Architectural Bureau: Arc

Text by Boris Bernaskon Architectural Bureau

Photo by Yuri Palmin

Adjaye Associates: Moscow School of Management

Text by Adjaye Associates

Photo by Ed Reeve

Sergey Skuratov Architects: Art House

Text by Sergey Skuratov Architects

Photo by Sergey Skuratov Architects

Shigeru Ban Architects: Garage Centre for Contemporary Art Pavilion

Photo by Didier Boy de la Tour

Boris Bernaskon Architectural Bureau: Mattress

Text by Boris Bernaskon Architectural Bureau

Photo by Yuri Palmin

Moscow School: Bulwark of Stability and Factors of Change

Text by Aleksey Muratov

The debate as to whether it is necessary to be able to draw a plaster bust has always divided the community of Muscovite architects.

Moscow and Transportation System: Existing Mobility and Future Projects

Text by Fabio Casiroli, Diego Deponte, Giuseppe A. Alizzi

Perception versus Reality: The State of Affairs in Moscow 20C Architectural Heritage

Text by Anna Bronovitskaya

Moscow’s Mass Housing during Soviet Times

Text by Philipp Mauer