📍 VELLEZERIT FRASHERI

BasicDIM Wireless offers a stunning variety of functions and is still easy to use. You can control single luminaires or combine them as a group. Use pre-defined lighting scenarios or easily adjust the light manually or automatically to suit your mood and requirements. In combination of basicDIM Wireless connectivity and innovative - first on the market - ONE Technology, thanks to silicone 5D lenses, it is possible to change beam angle of luminaire(s) without mechanically moving parts. If you want to be among first ones in the world to see how it works and how can you benefit of it – join our workshop, seats are limited.

🕒 4:50pm - 5:30pm, Feb 11

📍 APOLLONIA ROOM

Main Stage

Ignacio Vicens is going to present some projects, from a specific point of view: that of MATERIALITY. That is architecture from the point of view of the texture, the quality of its material. "Our architecture wants to pay attention to materials; we like to use very physical materials. We try to explore the expressive possibilities of different materials. Anyway, this is a purely methodical decision. I am without a doubt interested in the complexity of architectural projects. This presentation based on materials is really just an argumentative excuse, and in no way does it want to take for granted the complexity of Architecture."
